

Are you new to Change Management?

Tips on how to Network in the field of Change Management

1. Join a professional network related to change management and network with other professionals in the field.
2. Attend conferences and workshops that focus on change management topics.
3. Connect with change management experts on LinkedIn and other social media platforms.
4. Utilize online resources like webinars and discussion forums to build your knowledge base on change management.
5. Reach out to mentors and colleagues who have experience in the field.
6. Volunteer your time or look for internships in change management.
7. Connect with local universities and colleges to find out if they offer courses related to change management.
8. Connect with consulting firms and other organisations that specialize in change management.
9. Participate in industry events, such as roundtable discussions and panel discussions, to meet other professionals in the change management field.
10. Develop a professional portfolio that demonstrates your experience and skills in change management.

“Networking is an invaluable tool for change management. By connecting with people in the same field, you can gain access to valuable advice and resources that can help you navigate the complexities of change.”

